Dear Parents and Friends of the Junior School,

Yesterday, the Head Master, Mr Wyatt and I wrote to all parents of Kindergarten and Year 1 students at both campuses concerning a change to the school starting and finishing times for their sons. From the beginning of Term 3, all Kindergarten and Year 1 boys will start school at 8:30am and finish at 3:00pm. This will mean all students at the Junior and Prep Schools will commence the day at the same time. Kindergarten to Year 2 will now finish at the same time of 3pm, while Years 3 to 6 will continue to finish at 3:15pm. Whilst this will simplify pick-up and drop-off for many families, no doubt it will also pose challenges for others. This decision has been made with the boys’ learning in mind. It will add a significant amount of learning time each day for both year groups in the mornings which research indicates is the optimum learning time for most students. We are aware this change will alter the demands on the carpark at peak times and will be planning accordingly. If any parent has concerns about any aspect of this change, I encourage you to speak with your class teacher or contact me.

Earlier in the week, I also wrote to Kindergarten parents (it has been a big week for letters from the Master!) about the Australian Early Development Census (AEDC), a survey completed by Kindergarten teachers across the nation every three years to help create a snapshot of early childhood development. Any Kindergarten parents who do not want their son’s progress to be included in the AEDC, have been asked to notify the School before next Tuesday. The AEDC provides information for parents at their website (www.aedc.gov.au).

On Thursday evening, a number of Junior and Prep School parents attended a presentation from Dr Philip Tam on ‘Problem Internet Usage and Gaming in Australian Schoolchildren’. Dr Tam’s presentation and the questions from parents that followed illustrated the complexity for parents and educators in helping students control, rather than be controlled by, their use of the internet. Among the many topics touched on, the themes of balance and partnership emerged. At Trinity, we work hard to nurture boys in body, mind and spirit, catering for and encouraging a diverse range of interests, some of them digital, many of them not. We welcome opportunities to partner with parents in raising boys to be young men of fine character, equipped to handle the challenges that they face now and as they grow. To this end, the School has developed an ICT Student Acceptable Usage Agreement that will be distributed to all families early next term.

Next week, many of our students and staff will enjoy the opportunity to journey further afield to pursue their passions. On Monday, 35 boys from Summer Hill and Strathfield will travel to the North Coast of NSW to spend the week playing games, making friends and enjoying the sights. On Tuesday, 30 boys from both campuses will head to Bundanon for the annual two-day Art Camp. We wish all the boys involved a wonderful time and thank the accompanying staff for their commitment.

Next week, parents and boys will be able to access end of semester reports that will detail each boy’s achievements and effort across the Key Learning Areas and Units of Inquiry. I encourage each student to spend time with their parent/s reflecting upon the messages that teachers have included in their report and use them as a basis to set some goals for the second half of the year. Accompanying the report will be information for Junior School parents on how to access your son’s 2015 Folder of Learning, which will contain digital samples of work and evidence of learning. This represents a new and exciting component in our communication to parents, allowing you to acquaint yourselves more easily with what your son is doing at school.

One week to go until a well-earned break for all students and teachers.

Mark Dunn | Master of the Junior School

What am I? I began being rather small in stature, but over the years I have grown considerably, and extend my influence over a large part of the School, keeping my ‘silent watch and ward’ thereof. I have witnessed many things over the years: the rebuilding of the Founder’s Block, replacement of trees on the Quadrangle, and, for those years, every Quad assembly and indeed, everything that has ever taken place thereon.

More importantly, I have seen several ‘schools’ pass through Trinity, taking ‘school’ to mean the progress boys from Year 7 through to the end of Year 12, watching them move through their school years, developing from young boys into mature young men, ready to go from school into the world for which the School, hopefully, has prepared them well. Just as I have spread my influence over a wide area, so it is to be hoped that these young men will carry a good influence out into the world, as they begin to take their place in it. Also, as I draw my sustenance from the earth, so may they continue to develop and build their lives and develop further what they have learned at Trinity, which sources its growth from a belief encapsulated in the School motto: Detur Gloria Soli Deo.

At each Quad Assembly I am seen by most boys, though the remainder do not see me, as they are underneath me. I also act for those who wish to look, as a sundial which gives note of the passage of the day and of the seasons, as the shadow of the north building moves across me. I am, of course, the creeper which covers the walls of the building on the west side of the Quadrangle.

It has been your reporter’s privilege to see this creeper grow from its planting probably in the late ‘60s. Other past horticultural adornments of the Quadrangle included a row of poplar trees which were outside the Dining Hall, and especially, in the south east corner, the old pepper tree which was one of the trees reputedly existing on the original site when it was the Hurlstone Agricultural College. Succumbing in 1997 to partial collapse in its old age, it was replaced with a magnolia tree.

Another tree of interest is the one under which Kerrigan House meets for Assembly. Kerrigan is surely the only House assembles under a tree whose leaves are lime green, Kerrigan’s House colours!

With the weekend off due to the Queen’s Birthday it has been a wonderful opportunity for the staff and students to get some well-earned rest. This weekend are our final fixtures for the term and I look forward to getting out to Kings to watch our 1st and 2nd Rugby teams play.

Last weekend the Trinity Scouts had a fantastic time at the South Met Region Gathering at Camp Coutts near Waterfall. The weather was perfect, though a little cold overnight, for a weekend of fun and activities.

This year the scouts caught the train to and from camp. Meeting after school at Summer Hill station, Adrian, Aiden, Dan, Harrison, Rohan and Ryan were joined by James, Huon, Mr Snowsill and Mr Brown to catch the train to Waterfall and then hike in to the camp. This was a great experience and the scouts were able to see how easy it is to get to camp so that when they plan another camp they can repeat the same path. Earlier in the day Mr McManus and Mr Snowsill assisted Chil in taking the trailer and heavier gear to the camp, and to set up the kitchen and leader’s tents.

The scouts arrived just after 7pm and set about putting up their tent and organising their stretchers while a welcome supper and hot chocolate was prepared.

Saturday morning the Trinity Scouts hosted a parade with Burwood and Enfield Scouts to celebrate the investing of Aiden Murphy into the troop. Special guests to our parade was the Regional Commissioner and the Regional Commissioner (Scouts). They brought with them the Australian Scout Medallion to present to James Hull. The ASM is the highest award in the Scout Section with only 4% of scouts achieving this award. It is Scout section’s equivalent to the Venturer’s Queen Scout and Rover’s Baden-Powell Awards. James is the first Trinity Scout to achieve this award since its inception in 2003. A formal Presentation of the award will be made in August by the NSW Scout Commissioner upon James’ return from the World Jamboree in Japan. After parade, Adrian McManus attended his Australian Jamboree troop meeting before the activities of camp began.

As a patrol, the six Trinity Scouts undertook challenges and activities. Some of the activities were a challenge for individuals or as a team, while others covered parts of the Scout award scheme. Some of the activities included milk-crate stacking, a camp version of quidditch, making billy cans and cooking over an improvised stove using a home-made fire starter, or conquering an obstacle course over the natural pool in the centre of camp.

On Sunday Mrs Brown brought the cubs, Christian, Kelvin and William to camp for visitor’s day. The camp was filled with excitement as over 1460 scouts from all scouting sections undertook or ran activities. The cubs were also able to undertake most of the same activities as the scouts. Crate stacking was a great success with the Cubs able to stack the milk crates 11 high while William remained balanced on the top. The obstacle course and “attack the Minions” activities was a lot of fun also.

We had a great weekend with three nights camping at our bush camp and activities during the day. The scouts returned as they arrived by walking back up to Waterfall and catching the train to Summer Hill on Monday afternoon, then returning to scouts on Tuesday night to unpack the trailer.

Dan also led some games after unpacking the trailer and at closing parade we awarded proficiency badges to Harrison Brown for Fire Awareness; Ryan Snowsill for Musician; and Rohan Shetty for Individual Sport, Team Sport, Information Technology and Entertainer. William Brown was also awarded a level 1 Collector achievement badge.

All students interested in Scouts are welcome at 3rd Summer Hill (Trinity Grammar) – the Group is currently running programs for all Trinity boys from 7.5 years up to 10.5 years (Cubs) and 10 years up to 15 years (Scouts). Older students, including those interested in service projects for IB and Duke of Edinburgh, are also welcome. The Group meets in the old gymnasium during School term at Summer Hill Campus on Tuesday evenings from 6pm to 7:30pm.
